VITAMIN

01

Affected by insufficient supply, manufacturers of vitamin B1 have stopped reporting. Since the fourth quarter of last year, the price of vitamin B1 has rebounded from the bottom and has been rising. As of the suspension of reporting, the price rose by 150%. The supply of low-priced goods in the market continues to be consumed, and the market transactions are good.

AMINO ACID

02

The latest quotation from Dacheng Biochemical on March 11, 2024, in the Northeast region: 98.5% lysine is USD1290 /MT, 70% lysine is USD720/MT, the specific transaction price in other regions is based on the transportation distance, and the price difference is compensated; valine is quoted at USD2150/MT. The recent market price of valine is at the bottom and start to rise due to the rising trend of soybean meal prices.

API

03

Huasheng Company, a subsidiary of North China Pharmaceutical, recently announced that its product cyclosporine has successfully obtained the European Pharmacopoeia Suitability Certification (CEP) certificate issued by the European Agency for the Quality of Medicines (EDQM).

FOOD ADDITIVE

04

Affected by market demand, the price of food sweetener sucralose has stabilized, and the current price is stable at 16-16.5 US dollars/KG. Price changes will not be obvious in the short term.
