The first information disclosure of Shandong NHU 8,000-ton synthetic fragrance project: Shandong NHU's existing factory area is being expanded and renovated to produce 8,000 tons of synthetic fragrances per year. The project will be built using the original 618 workshop. After completion, it will have an annual production capacity of 3,000 tons of OMC, 5,000 tons of citral, and 2,700 tons of by-product sodium acetate aqueous solution.

AMINO ACID

02

The market for small-variety amino acids was relatively stable last week. The price of valine was weak, the market price dropped slightly, the terminal transaction willingness was not strong, and there was room for negotiation; the price of isoleucine was at the bottom, the overall market purchase and sale was not active, but there was not much room for decline, and attention should be paid to the factory's order situation in the later period; the delivery of arginine factories was relatively tight, and the market was expected to be stable in the short term.

API

On the evening of April 26, Sino Biopharma issued an announcement stating that the company's controlling subsidiary Shandong Sirui Pharmaceutical Co., Ltd. recently received the "Notice of Approval of Chemical Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients Marketing Application" issued by the State Food and Drug Administration.

FOOD ADDITIVE

04

Recently, Lallemand and DSM Firmenich announced a collaboration to launch synergistic synbiotic solutions to support early life nutrition. These solutions will combine DSM Firmenich's human milk oligosaccharides (HMO) and Lallemand's probiotics to make the composition of infant formula closer to breast milk, thereby supporting non-breastfed infants to establish a microbiome similar to that of breastfed infants, as well as immunity, intestinal microbiome and development levels.
