VITAMIN

01

ZMC has stopped quoting VE 50% feed grade before May 1st, and recently began to sign limited orders with core overseas customers; since May, the market price of vitamin E 50% feed grade has also been relatively strong, and transactions have been active. As the supply of goods in the channel has become more and more concentrated and the factory concentrated maintenance season has arrived, we judge that a new node for VE is coming, and upstream quotations and control of order signing will become more and more powerful.

AMINO ACID

02

The market price of lysine sulfate has been relatively stable recently, ranging from USD 675-705/MT. We will pay attention to the factory's order situation in the future.

API

03

Recently, according to the announcement of the State Intellectual Property Office, Guobang Pharmaceutical Group Co., Ltd. applied for a patent entitled "A method for preparing a florfenicol intermediate cyclic compound". The patent abstract shows that the preparation method can simplify the preparation process, reduce power consumption, improve raw material utilization, and effectively increase the yield of the intermediate cyclic compound; and in the preparation process, it can avoid the introduction of copper ions and sodium sulfate, reduce the pressure of hazardous waste treatment, and reduce the overall production cost.

FOOD ADDITIVE

04

Recently, the food additive aspartame has been affected by market demand, and the market transaction price is around USD9.9-10.5/KG. It is expected that the price will remain stable in the future.
